MALTHOUSE

THEATRE

THE

NEW

NOW

WE ARE ABOUT THE NEW AT MALTHOUSE, NOW.

That means over 20 new script commissions annually by leading emerging, daring, political, social, and cultural voices every year.

That means working with artists who reflect our contemporary society—who tell stories that speak to truth, culture, and community—empowered on the Malthouse stage.

That means urgency. Urgency to enable more of the new, through space, funding, and expertise, pushing the art form of theatre to new places told by new voices.

This year we need your help to keep our behind-the-scenes action as vibrant and exciting as the works you see on our stages.

NEW THEATRE AT MALTHOUSE

We achieve The New Now through the research and development arm of Malthouse Theatre: The Engine Room. This creative laboratory which enables our mainstage work includes:

- Script commissioning program
- Script development and production workshops
- Set design labs that experiment with innovative digital technologies
- Artist residencies and professional development programs for artists across all career stages

WHEN YOU DONATE, YOU SUPPORT:

AUDIENCE ACCESS & INCLUSIVITY

We offer access services such as Auslan interpreted and audio described performances, provide subsidised tickets and additional access services to promote inclusivity, remove barriers, and create equity for all audience members.

INDIGENOUS VOICES

By commissioning emerging and established Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander theatre-makers, we champion new Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander work on our stages.

ARTIST DEVELOPMENT

Through residencies, workshops and artist placements, we provide essential creative support to the 200+ artists we work with each year.

EDUCATION

Young audiences and young artists are a vital part of our creative community. We offer an array of curriculum aligned productions, workshops and events for students that stir the imagination in our next generation of theatre-makers.

STORIES OF M

Stories of M is the living history of Malthouse where we showcase the incredible 40+ year history of our company. Every month we commission artists and writers to reflect on our stories and connect our past to our future.
